

FRIENDSHIP KEEP-SAKE

This resource is designed for friends to complete together before one of them moves away. It focuses on celebrating your friendship, creating happy memories, and helping you stay connected.

Some suggestions of what you'll need

Choose at least one:

A notebook or exercise book

A few sheets of paper stapled together

A folder

A small box (like a shoebox)

Or, if you prefer, create a shared digital photo album together.

Then gather whatever you'd like to decorate it with:

- Pens or pencils
- Colouring pens
- Scissors and glue
- Stickers (if you have them)
- Printed or drawn pictures
- Tickets or postcards
- Leaves, pressed flowers or small keepsakes
- Anything that reminds you of your friendship

What could you include?

You don't have to do everything—just choose the ideas you like best.

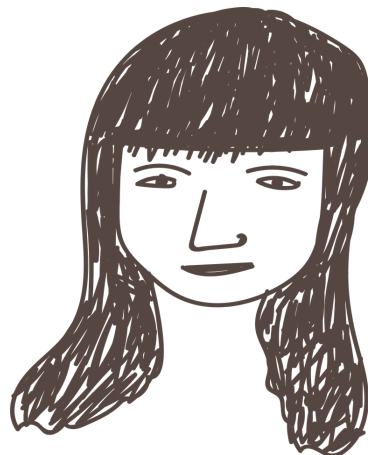

Write about your friendship

How did you meet?

What's your funniest memory together?

What's something you'll never forget?

What makes your friend special?

Get creative

- Draw a picture of yourselves.
- Make a comic strip of a funny moment.
- Design a friendship logo or secret handshake.
- Write your favourite joke.

Add memories

- Stick in (or draw) things that remind you of each other, such as:
- Photos
- Cinema tickets
- Birthday cards
- Football match programmes
- Favourite sweet wrappers
- Maps of places you've been together

Write each other a letter

Tell your friend:

- What you'll miss most.
- Your favourite memory together.
- Something they've taught you.
- What you hope they'll do next.

Make a staying-in-touch plan

Think about how you'll keep your friendship going.

You could:

- Arrange a video call.
- Write letters or postcards.
- Play games together online.
- Send each other photos or voice notes.
- Plan your next catch-up.

Your Friendship Promise

On the last page (or inside the lid of your box), write a promise to each other.

It could be something like:

- "We'll always cheer each other on."
- "We'll keep making memories, even if we're far apart."
- "Distance doesn't stop a friendship."
